How Complete Is Your Turf Library?

If it includes all bound volumes of THE BLOOD-HORSE that have been issued since this magazine became a weekly publication in 1929 then you are indeed one of the most fortunate horsemen in America. For at your finger tips you have a record of all developments in American Thoroughbred breeding and racing, as well as the highlights in foreign countries.

If your library contains none of these bound volumes—then it is underprivileged and badly neglected. And you must put in a lot of unnecessary work and research to get the details of what happened two, three, five, eight, or 10 years ago in racing and breeding. Each bound volume covers a six months period, completely indexed. Included in each volume covering the last six months of the year is the Stakes Winners Supplement.

No longer can we fill orders for bound volumes covering 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, or the first six months of 1934. Those volumes already are collectors' items. Only a few volumes covering the last half of 1934, 1935, 1936, and 1937 remain on our shelves, and requests from breeders, owners, trainers and other persons associated with the Thoroughbred industry are steadily reducing the larger printings of 1938 and 1939.
